Introduction

This is the introduction section of a synthetic fixture document.
It exists to exercise basic parsing, chunking, and page-to-character-offset mapping without depending on any real paper.

Conclusion

This is the conclusion section, on the second page.
A correct parser must attribute this text to page 2, not page 1, and to the Conclusion section, not the Introduction.